Largest Number of Vessels Sunk in Six Weeks

CANADIANS TAKE GERMAN TRENCHES

Capture of Nest Makes Approach to Lens Less Difficult—
British Have Recaptured Important Positions
—Italians Gain on Plateau

London, England, June 20.—Twenty-seven British ships of more than 1,600 tons have been sunk, according to the weekly British summary given out today. Five British vessels under 1,600 tons also were sent to the bottom. No fishing vessels were destroyed.

The summary follows: "Arrivals, 2,897; sailings, 2,993. British merchant ships over 1,600 tons sunk by mines or submarines, including three previously, 27; under 1,600 tons, including one previously, 1; British merchant ships unsuccessfully attacked, including two previously, 9.

Heavy Losses.

The foregoing figures of British shipping losses as the result of Germany's submarine warfare show a larger number of vessels sunk than in any of the six preceding weeks. Not since the seven day period ending April 5, has a greater number of ships been destroyed. During that week 31 vessels, 38 over and 13 under 1,600 tons were sunk. The heaviest tonnage was sunk in the Teuton submarine campaign as opened in February last when 21, then 40 steamers of more than 1,600 tons were sunk and 15 vessels of the smaller tonnage were sent to the bottom.

Since the middle of April when the German boat activities recorded its highest toll of 303 British vessels of high 220 measured more than 1,600 tons were sunk, the weekly totals have been as follows: Over 1,600 tons, April 18, 48; April 25, 38; May 2, 24; May 9, 18; May 16, 18; May 23, 18; June 1, 15; June 8, 22; June 15, 27. Under 1,600 tons, April 21, 15; April 28, 13; May 5, 22; May 12, 5; May 19, 9; May 26, 1; June 2, 3; June 9, 10; June 16, 5.

Canadian Success.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, June 24.—Canadian troops captured a nest of German trenches at a foot of Reservoir Hill and have made the entente approach to Lens less difficult. The new positions have been incorporated in the British lines. The nest was regarded by the Canadians as the chief place of German egress between their own front and the sea. It lies north of the Souchez river. A dug out was blown up and 35 prisoners were taken. Three German anti-aircraft attacks were beaten off.

Alarming Size.

The weekly report of losses to British shipping sunk by submarines or mines has again reached alarming proportions. It shows an increase over the report of the past six weeks tonnage destroyed. The latest figures, 27 vessels of over 1,600 tons and five under 1,600 tons, placed the loss in the first category higher, except during the weeks ending April 1 and April 28, than during any

ILLEGAL NEW YORK HAS BIG TRAFFIC IN GIRLS

ONE SPARED IN INVESTIGATION OF CITY'S POLICE

New York, June 20.—Sensational allegations of a widespread traffic in girls in this city resulted today in an investigation of the charges. His son followed the announcement that between 700 and 800 girls have disappeared from their homes since May 1. This was the most important result thus far of the head-detective by a woman lawyer. A private detective of the murder Ruth Cruger, 18-year-old High school student months after the police denied a superficial search for her. "Spent no one," was the order given Commissioner Wood to Inspector J. Haurout, who was placed in charge of the inquiry.

Speculation on developments that likely to follow the investigation of this may be disclosed by an immoderate investigation of the methods in running down crime. It is being brought to light in connection with the murder and the spread for supposed accomplices of Alfredo Cocchi formally tried with the crime.

At least one of the results of Inspector Haurout's investigation, it was tonight, will be a complete reorganization of the bureau of missing persons which is now inadequate to handle the large number of cases. It is expected a bureau will be established to do nothing but search for girls who disappear from their homes, search for possible victims who may have shared a fate similar to that of Miss Cruger was begun by the police today in every shop or cellar occupied by Cocchi since he came to this country. Further search today in the cellar where the body was discovered disclosed a two bladed jackknife with stains on it and not far away another knife. In the furnace room was a cigar box containing a woman's purse. For two hours today Mrs. Marie Cocchi, wife of the fugitive, was questioned at the district attorney's office. She insisted she knew nothing that would throw light on Miss Cruger's murder or disappearance.

Inspector Haurout called before him tonight Acting Captain Cooper and two detectives who were in charge of the hunt for Miss Cruger as the first step in his investigation into the failure of the police to find the body. He said he would welcome information from any source which might clear up the mystery and throw light on the conduct of the police during the investigation.

RUNS AMUCK, KILLS THREE.

Natchitoches, La., June 20.—George Pikes, a negro, ran amuck with a shot gun near here last night with the result that three persons are dead and four seriously wounded. Under the influence of liquor he drove his mother and his wife from their homes and later shot and seriously wounded his brother and burned his home. Len Ruzza, former chief of police here, and a negro named Ernest Truhamme were killed, and L. E. Hudson, the city school superintendent, and two negro boys, seriously wounded.

WORK OF SCOUTS ON LOAN.

RED CROSS FUND AT $43,500,000

Few Big Pledges Yesterday With More Work

COLONEL ASKS HELP Roosevelt Says Help With Your Body, But If Not Open Up Your Purse

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Red Cross campaigners throughout the country reported to national headquarters here about $9,000,000 in subscriptions to the $100,000,000 fund to be raised in a week, bringing the total reports of "humanity dollars" for three days to approximately $43,500,000.

Big pledges were few today and officials of the Red Cross war council said the day's total, although much smaller than those of the two preceding days, represented probably more actual canvassing work and a greater number of small donations. On these contributions from persons of moderate means campaign leaders base strong hope of big returns between now and Monday, when the campaign closes.

Early tonight tabulations at headquarters showed contributions to date of $19,500,000 from New York city and $24,000,000 from the remainder of the United States. Many cities had sent no reports.

Outside of New York city, first place in the race was held by the north central states, comprising Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin. The middle Atlantic states were second; southern group, third; New England, fourth; and the west, fifth.

Campaign committees reported many novel methods adopted to open the channels of offerings. In Cleveland firms that have profited from the war "were assessed" by the local managers, and most of them responded. Employees of a number of stores in Stamford, Conn., agreed to give a week's wages. Cincinnati policemen and firemen were authorized by the mayor to solicit funds on the street.

Roosevelt's Endorsement.

Theodore Roosevelt today gave formal endorsement to the Red Cross campaign in this message to Clifford Pinchot:

"The most important pass before us is to get the largest number of effective troops at the front at the earliest possible moment. Second only in importance to this is to further the work of the Red Cross in providing for those troops. The Red Cross is doing this in a masterly fashion."

"I most earnestly bespeak the fullest support of it from every man and woman in the United States. Let each give the utmost possible according to his or her ability. Let every man serve with his body if possible and if this is not possible at least let him do everything with his purse to help the soldiers at the front."

Assurance that contributions from Quakers or others opposed to war would be set apart for civilian relief when this is requested was given by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, who said today:

"I am more than glad to give assurance that gifts, large or small, when clearly specified by the donors shall be set apart and administered exclusively for the non-military service of the Red Cross."

Elliott Wadsworth, active chairman of the Red Cross, issued a warning to chapters against soliciting of funds by unauthorized persons.

City Returns.

Outside of New York, Cleveland was the banner city in today's reports, gaining nearly a million and making the city total $2,426,000.

Totals by cities reported tonight include the following: New York city, $19,500,000; Chicago, $2,594,000; Cleveland, $2,426,000; Pittsburgh, $1,157,000; Buffalo, $1,008,000; Cincinnati, $1,000,000; Philadelphia, $893,000; St. Louis, $872,000, and Rochester, $767,000.

New York, June 20.—Virtually one-third of the nation's $100,000,000 Red Cross war fund has been raised here in three days of a whirlwind campaign which began Monday. Figures announced tonight showed that $33,220,000 has already been donated by contributors in this city, the individual sums ranging all the way from $1 to $1,000,000. It is predicted this district's quota of $10,000,000 will undoubtedly be greatly oversubscribed by the end of Red Cross week.

There was a rush of Red Cross dividends today by banks and big corporations, nearly half a million dollars being reported in various contributions as follows:

Guarantee Trust company, $100,000; Corn Exchange bank, about $35,000; Equitable Trust company, $30,000; New York Trust company, $30,000; Metropolitan Trust company, $20,000; South Porto Rico Sugar company, $25,000; International Salt Company, about $15,000; Page Detroit Motor Car company, $5,000.

Lunch Rooms.

Contributions totalling $2,225,309 were reported by the 30 team captains working in the lunch rooms of the city.

"I worked three places to get $1.00 each," said Mr. Underwood in making his report.

The largest gifts of the day were Henry C. Frick, $250,000 and Arthur C. James, $250,000; Thomas F. Ryan, $100,000; James C. Brady, $100,000; D. Lamar, $50,000; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Vanderbilt, $50,000; M. Friedsam, $25,000; Harold J. Pratt, $25,000; L. C. Kaufman, $25,000; E. W. Woolworth & company, $25,000; William M. Todd, $25,000; Adolph Lewisohn & Sons, $25,000; United Cigar Stores company, $25,000; George P. Baker Jr., $25,000; Mrs. George F. Baker Jr., $10,000; Mrs. Henry C. Frick, $10,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $10,000; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, $10,000.

DENIES HE IS GUILTY OF PIPER'S MURDER

CONDON TAKEN BY SURPRISE AT HIS ARREST IN CASE

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 20.—Dr. William J. Condon, captain of the United States medical officers' reserve corps, held at police headquarters here tonight in connection with the death of John V. Piper, denied any knowledge of the manner in which Piper met his death.

Dr. Condon still wore the uniform of a medical officers' reserve corps captain. He said he would make no effort to prevent New Jersey detectives from taking him home.

"My arrest came like a bombshell," said Dr. Condon. "This whole matter was thrust upon five months ago."

"I am suspected I suppose because they say my home was the last place the man was seen. He attended our furnace and was a nice, industrious fellow and appeared to be very studious. He impressed me as having too much to do. He supported a family and went to school. I didn't know him well enough to quarrel with him. I don't think I conversed 20 words with him."

FOOD CONTROL BILL WILL PASS

Opposition Lessens With Effect of Public Opinion

MUST PREVENT CORNERS

Speculators Flayed and Called
"Highwaymen and Allies of the Kaiser" Who May Cause Riots

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Food administration leaders in congress said tonight public sentiment was beginning to make itself felt among the opponents of the food control bill and predicted enactment of the measure within two or three weeks.

Debate continued today in both branches, with the house again sitting until late at night to close general debate with a view to proceeding under the five-minute speech rule tomorrow and taking a final vote by Saturday. In the senate there was serious discussion with larger attendance. The amending stage probably will be reached there next week, after the measure as it passes the house is substituted for the final draft.

Some Legislation.

Despite the continued opposition and the certainty of some amendments, ultimate enactment of the legislation in some form is conceded even by its opponents. Senator Chamberlain said tonight it was possible that the bill would be finally enacted by July 1 as desired by the President, but few shared his optimism. The general opinion being for two more weeks of debate.

Senator Kenyon, Republican, occupied most of the day in the senate in support of the food bill. He emphasized necessity for broad government control of foodstuffs as a war measure, defended the bill's constitutionality and flayed speculators whom he characterized as "highwaymen and allies of the Kaiser."

"If this thing is going on in the cornering of foods and fuel," he said, "we are going to have hunger and bread riots in this country or something worse."

Criticize Bill.

Senators Gore, Reed and Vardaman, Democrats, continued as the principal critics of the bill. They were joined by Senator Borah, Republican, who questioned the measure's constitutionality and said it was "full of glittering generalities" which would "bewilder the business world and paralyze the initiative of the country." He advocated, however, regulation of speculation and governmental purchasing of food supplies.

Senator Gore insisted that the bill would force farmers' prices down, cause famine next year from under production and loss this year of $750,000,000 to wheat and corn producers. In the house, Representative Meeker, of Missouri, Republican, assailed the bill and questioned the ability of Mr. Hoover, the food administrator, while Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, Republican, opposed the broad powers the measure would confer upon the executive.

Make Amendments.

Among many amendments proposed was one by Mr. Lenroot limiting its operation to the war period, instead of one year after the war. Representative Lever agreed to such an amendment. Senator Kenyon opposed senate amendments which would remove all possibility of future, if food could be had from agricultural resources.

Senate opponents of the bill are conferring informally toward agreement upon amendments which they contend are necessary to prevent interference with legitimate business. Criticism of Mr. Hoover drew a speech in his defense from Representative (Cham) of California, who paid a tribute to his work in Belgium.

BELL TO VISIT PLATTSBURG

To Open Building Where Men Can See
Their "Girls."

Plattsburg, June 20.—Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, commanding the department of the east, will make an official visit to the officers' training camp here next Friday, remaining here until Sunday. Saturday night he will attend the formal opening of the camp's open air theatre, when the "Lamb Gambol" will be the attraction. The afternoon of the same day he will assist in the opening of the camp hostess house, built and maintained by the Young Women's Christian association. This is a building on the government reservation where the members of the camp during certain hours each day can visit with women relatives and friends. A large number of the National Guardsmen in the camp are taking their discharge because they believe they are discriminated against in the matter of pay. They contend there is no justice in paying them as enlisted in the National Guard while the civilians without military experience are to receive $100 a month.

RELEASE MISS PARKER IN DRAFT PLOT CASE

JUDGE HOLDS SHE DID NOT KNOW
CONTENTS OF PAMPHLET

New York, June 20.—The federal jury trying Eleanor Wilson Parker, a Barnard college senior and Owen Cattell, and Charles F. Phillips, Columbia students, on a charge of conspiring to induce young men not to register under the selective draft law, acquitted Miss Parker today by the court's direction. The defendants, according to the prosecution, prepared a pamphlet entitled, "Will you be drafted?" and sent it to a printer. Miss Parker, testifying today in her own defence, said she saw the original text of this document before May 18, the day on which the draft law became effective, but did not read it in its altered form after May 18. There was evidence to show, in the opinion of United States Judge Myer, that Miss Parker did not know of its final contents. "The court held that what was done before the draft law went into effect was legal."

After Miss Parker was indicted, it was announced at Barnard that her college degree was being withheld pending the outcome of the trial. The case of Cattell and Phillips will go to the jury after both sides have summed up tomorrow. The two were the first to congratulate Miss Parker upon her acquittal. Attorneys for the defence moved for dismissal of the indictment against Cattell and Phillips, made on the ground that the two did not intend to distribute the pamphlets in the form in which it went to the printers, but had planned to modify it. Judge Myer denied the motion, saying the evidence showed that the two knew the contents of the pamphlet after May 18.

AUTO MAKERS ANXIOUS TO MAKE ARMY TRUCKS

EIGHTY-SEVEN CONCERNS PUT IN
BIDS WITH GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., June 20.—The war department requests for bids for 35,000 army motor trucks brought responses from 87 concerns throughout the country and when the offers were opened today it was explained that the total number for which bidders are ready to contract is many times the government requirements. How many will be ordered has not been determined. The estimate of 35,000 made in asking for bids was based on the maximum transport needs of an army of 2,000,000 men.

Virtually all the big motor companies and many of the smaller ones submitted bids. Many types and sizes were offered, the prices ranging from $1,051 for one-ton trucks to $4,600 for five-ton vehicles. Some of the manufacturers are ready to begin delivery at once and others set various delivery dates, ranging up to six months.

Three concerns, the Pierce-Arrow Motor company, the Hurlburt Motor Truck company and the Nash Motors company, each offered to build the whole 35,000. There was one offer of 1,000 and several of 5,000. Three companies offered to build trucks at cost plus ten per cent profit.

CROWDS HISS CONSTANTINE.

Geneva, Italy, June 30.—Reports received here from Lugano say that Constantine was very coolly received by the crowds. ## RECOUNTS HIS TRIP

Speaks Before Members of House of Commons at Luncheon
Arranged in His Honor

"There is nothing more I am more certain than this, that the United States, having put its hand to the plow will not turn back. They will not refuse any sacrifices or efforts which may bring a happy fruition, on which they are convinced depend the whole trend of civilization."—Mr. Balfour.

London, England, June 20.—Arthur J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs, gave an accounting of his stewardship in connection with his mission to the United States to the members of the house of commons today in a luncheon arranged in his honor by the Empire Parliamentary association. The guests were members of parliament and cabinet ministers with the American ambassador, Walter H. Page, and a few colonial representatives as the few outsiders.

Ex-Premier Herbert H. Asquith presided as the token of the non-political character of the occasion. After a cordial welcome home voiced by Mr. Asquith, Mr. Balfour said:

"I undertook the headship of the American mission with some reluctance and diffidence. I felt it so easy to do harm and perhaps not so easy to do good. But looking back I feel that no harm has been done and much good. My colleagues performed their various tasks with great skill, tasks which involved the bringing together of the tremendous forces of the United States and Great Britain."

"The success of the mission was not due to the personal qualifications of your representatives but from wider causes. I say nothing of the hospitality of the United States which is proverbial. I think right well of the boundless kindness shown us which was so obviously from the heart. The American people would have given us that same hospitality under any circumstances."

"What moves me and all of Britain and France, too, is something deeper, namely the tremendous and spontaneous enthusiasm of America for what is now our common cause, and a deep feeling of sympathy which manifestly animates the entire American community."

"It was not in the power of any mission or any group of individuals to create that feeling. Our mission was merely the occasion for its manifestation; it gave the Americans a welcome chance to show what they felt in the cause of freedom. And this is the greatest and profoundest result of our trip. This is a result of which the value cannot be measured by the mere effect it will have in the present war, but which will outlast many generations."

"Thus the mission has been the occasion of the most beneficent development of international relations in the history of the world. The co-operation between England and America, because it is not based on the fact that each nation hopes to get something out of the present war, but on deep congruity of ideals, will endure as long as the two nations are content to pursue these ideals, which I pray God may be forever."

START INQUIRY OF FOOD BEFORE SURVEY

WILSON DECIDES NOT TO WAIT FOR LEGISLATION

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Department of agriculture officials and members of the federal trade commission held a preliminary conference today to discuss a joint food price investigation they are now undertaking under the direction of President Wilson. The meat industry will be taken up first, Senator David going to Chicago within two weeks.

The inquiry is apart from the general food survey provided for in the first Lever bill pending in congress, which contemplates the continuance registering of the amount of foodstuffs on hand in the country and the amount available for export.

Reports of wide unrest throughout the country due to high food prices are reaching the commission daily. Food prices it was said must be brought down or there would be a general readjustment of wages.

WHAT DOES DEATH MEAN?

An Artist Called It "The Chance to Explore the Infinite."

A new definition of death is that by a French artist, who has now tested the truth of his own words. "Death," said he, "is the chance to explore the infinite." The definition is in the same mood as that of the late Charles Frohman as he went down on the Lusitania. It is a bit more definite, however, than "Death is life's most beautiful adventure." It expresses the nature of the adventure.

This French artist, it seems, was on a voyage of the space idea. He was ever viewing the world as a vessel voyaging. He endeavored with artist vision to visualize the world as rushing through infinitude by other worlds or in a stream of comets, planets, asteroids, suns. And his dream was of flights across the gulfs to Mars, to Venus, outside the solar system, to Sirius and the greater suns. With paint he strove to render what Goethe expresses in the song of the archangel in the opening of "Faust."

All the kinds of us pass over, willing, or reluctantly. We have no choice, and there are no exceptions. Probably we have no choice concerning what death is to be. Whether it means extinction or confers immortality, whether it is a glorious adventure or ushers us into another sordid existence bounded by another death, we have no power to determine. We await its coming and its solution, but...We are the victims or its beneficiaries, but we have no power to change its destiny. The bold dreamer welcomes it as opportunity. The tired spirit is reconciled to it as rest. Perhaps it will bring to every man his different hope. Let us so trust.—Minneapolis Journal.

United States of America.

The assumption of the title "the United States of America" first appears in Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence, and in this particular the first draft was not altered by the congress in ordaining the Declaration. The words are found in the final paragraph and thus appear in the final copy on file "We therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general congress assembled." On Sept. 9, 1776, the congress first officially designated the new nation by the title and style of the United States of America.

Feats of Memory.

Wonderful feats of memory have been performed by men of no learning. Jedediah Buxton, an illiterate peasant, could tramp over a piece of ground and tell its contents in square feet or inches as accurately as if he had measured it with a chain. Being asked suddenly in a field how many cubical eights of an inch there are in a triangular body whose three sides are respectively 23 145 780 yards, 5 642 734 yards and 34 965 yards, he gave the exact solution within an hour or so.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The New York Markets.

New York, June 20.—Withdrawals of public participation and advance in call money to 6 1/2 per cent, the high rate of the year, fresh complications in the foreign situation and unfavorable weather over western and southwestern agricultural centers accounted for today's further impairment of values.

The higher money rates extended to time loans and one day accounts by the local federal reserve bank which were raised from two to three per cent. Declines were again most severe in speculative issues but embraced all divisions of the list including rails. Prices were distinctly firm at the opening but heaviness soon developed on persistent offerings of steel, copper, oils, sugars and numerous unclassified stocks.

Partial rallies were invariably followed by renewed sellings.

U. S. Steel offered less resistance to pressure, liberty bonds held at par for full lots, and other United States issues were unchanged on call.

HARD WORK WINS.

It Is the Staff of Life on the Hard Road to Success.

Sir Frederick Treves, a noted British surgeon, said recently that hard work counts for more than brilliancy. If he had to submit to a major operation, he added, he would choose a careful, hard worker rather than a brilliant surgeon.

These remarks have excited some controversy. But, after all, do they contain any real disparagement of brilliancy? Brilliancy, like genius, is an accident. It is born, not made. The world would be a dull, flat plane intellectually if it did not throw up brilliant people. Hard work would never have given us Shakespeare, Beethoven, Keats, Holme, Poe, Shelley.

But hard work is the staff of life. On it we can count on it we can rely. Hard work collects data, assimilates them, verifies brilliant hypotheses, connects and completes truths received in "flashes."

When the brilliant man is also a hard worker he conquers the world. But the slow conquests of hard work by men of talent and ability are by no means negligible. We can train children to appreciate work and method, efficiency, order and industry. When they happen to be brilliant into the bargain the reward of hard work will be correspondingly greater.

Woe to them who expect brilliancy alone to give them the success that is worthy and enduring.—Chicago Herald.

MUST ELECT BUSINESS MEN.

Country Needs Them as Officeholders, Says E. W. Rice.

"If our government is to continue to regulate business," says E. W. Rice, president of the General Electric company, "it is essential that the men we elect to the legislatures and to government offices should be possessed of accurate knowledge of modern business."

"Modern business is highly complex. Our political bodies as at present constituted cannot possibly administer such a delicate and intricate situation with success."

"It is also vital that we should take an interest in those whom we select to represent us in our government offices."

—Industrial Conservation, New York.

Alfonso Reported Won to Republic

King Alfonso has yielded to the forces of discontent at work in his kingdom, according to reports from Spain, and has agreed to abdication and the establishment of a Spanish republic. It is said that Alfonso has even offered to serve as the first president, which would not be impossible in view of the Spanish monarch's democratic character and his great popularity among the people. ### VANITY AND SPECTACLES.

The Old Plea That Wearing Glasses Makes One Look Aged.

One of the popular objections to wearing glasses is that wearing glasses makes one look old.

This was true in the days when they were worn only to help poor sight and chiefly by the elderly. Now a very large percentage of wearers of spectacles are children, and the wearing of spectacles is no longer a mark of advanced age. It is not a sufficient excuse for a lady to say that glasses would make her look old.

Moreover, wearing glasses is one of the best preservers of a youthful appearance. This is because prolonged eye strain causes wrinkles to appear prematurely and gives the countenance a strained, anxious, tired, drawn, cross look, which is very characteristic and is far more to be avoided from the point of view of appearance than the slight disfigurement of glasses.

Indeed, so far from being unbecoming, there are some types of face to which glasses just add the finishing touch.—Charles Phelps Cushing in World's Work.

The members of the Home Economics club in Otsego county will congratulate Miss Freer upon the well-deserved promotion which she has received in being selected as the head of the Home Economics board of the state. At the same time they will regret her departure from a field in which she has done such excellent work.

It was a duty to buy a bond, if there was possibility in your finances of so doing. It is a duty now to give to the Red Cross if by any hook or crook you may bring the money therefor to pass. It seems a big thing to raise a hundred million even for so grand a purpose; but America does things in a grand way, and none will have need to be displeased at the outcome.

City Judge Hart of Enghamton says that the most unpopular crime in that city this year will be stealing from gardens or in any way injuring the growing crops. In other years such acts have been crimes against the individual. This season they are against the nation. Already it is evident that in Oneonta the crops grown in so many gardens will be carefully looked after. And woe to the man convicted of stealing or of wanton destruction. However the law may regard it, the offense is in spirit traitorous.

A few days ago it was noted that today is the longest day of the year in this latitude. Incidentally it may also be told that it is the first day of summer, as summer is properly reckoned by astronomers. The weather of yesterday, albeit there were signs all day of the customary showers, likewise indicated that the summer was at hand, the air having in it no hint of the cold which for three months the days had hardly been without. But, whatever the season ended may have been, it's summer now, by the almanac.

"What's in a name?" said Shakespeare, and answers by asserting that by any other name a rose would smell as sweet. Animated by such sentiment, the King of England has directed that the high princes and princesses of Teck and of Battenberg and of Saxony and Schleswig-Holstein hereafter be known by titles strictly English. It is doubtless a good idea, but underneath it is the thing and not the name that counts, and these royal personages have just the same blood in their veins as they had before the king ordained a change of name.

Aliterative catch words and phrases are common in these days, and anybody is excusable who coins them if perchance they are made to call attention to some phase of the great war problem. Just now the phrase is "Serve by saving." It was devised by Herbert C. Hoover, the food expert of the present emergency, and he is asking the people to commit the phrase to memory. Isn't it a good one? If it is, male and female alike might profit by its personal application. Women might apply it to the affairs of the household. Men could find a place for it in the little book which is monitor of their own extravagant tobacco and other habits.

Schoharie county, which along with Otsego and Madison has made up the chief hop section of the state, is apparently going out of the business. Many hop vides were plowed up this spring and after a year of preparation the farmers will go into dairying. The production of milk and of milk products may not yield so large a profit in occasional years, but it will average a great deal better. Also, in view of the growing prohibition sentiment, a change to some other industry may be most judicious. Hops require a great deal of labor, and in this way of fertilizers are thieves of the land. Dairying properly carried on continuously enriches the soil.

The New York Mail, which comes as near as any metropolitan paper printed in English comes to presenting the German view of things in America, tells its readers that there is no need to be concerned about the expansion of Germany in the direction of Asia Minor, "since that field would absorb German energies for many decades." This may be true, but always German domination in Austria, the Balkans and Turkey would be a threat against the peace of the world. Nobody cares how much Germany may expand commercially, but what is feared about is the strengthening of the Hohenzollern sphere of influence, which would strengthen the Hohenzollern just for conquest. Eliminate the German royal family and its associate Junkers and nobody would have a word to say about industrial growth. Therein it is that the peril lies.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

A Native of Schoharie.
John Franklin Morrison, who has just received an appointment in the army as major general and who is expected to see service in France, is a Schoharie county boy. He was born at Charlottesville, town of Summit, 51 years ago. When a child his parents moved to Schoharie village, where he received his early education at the Schoharie academy. He was graduated from West Point in 1881 and since then has been in military service. For several years he has served as military instructor at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and for more than a year past he has been brigadier general in the Philippines.—[Exchange.]A German Invasion.
The first German invasion noticed around here occurred on Saturday last, when a large number of submarines of the carp family, taking advantage of the high water, came up on Willis Hyer's flat. Their presence was discovered and volunteers were not lacking to seize any kind of weapon available as our forefathers did at Lexington, and hostilities began. Rifles, shotguns, axes, pitchforks and clubs all did good execution. The number secured was 25, the largest of which weighed 23 pounds with many more crowding the 20 pound mark pretty closely. The entire catch was taken to Mr. Hyer's place, strung on a wire and photographed. Their combined weight was 300 pounds.—[Graves in Gilbertsville Journal.]Fight for Their Old Enemy.
Before the war Emperor William was so hostile to the Social Democrats of Germany that he believed it would become necessary sooner or later to use force against them. In a celebrated speech referring to their actions he announced that loyal Germans must display no hesitancy in shooting down their own brothers if he in his heaven sent wisdom ordered them to do so.

In view of his ancient hostility to socialists of all shades of thought it becomes increasingly difficult to understand how the Socialists in conference at Stockholm can lend themselves to the project of pulling the Kaiser's chestnuts out of the fire.—[New York Herald.]

COUNTY AND CITY ENROLLMENT.

Figures in City Approximately 3,500, and in County About 15,000.
The enrollment of men and women in the county of Otsego under the provisions of the military census law is going on well, and in the opinion of Harrie L. Cooke of Cooperstown, county supervisor of the census, the work will be nearly or quite completed in most towns by tonight, and practically cleared up in the county by the end of the week. It was understood that Richfield would be finished last evening, though the storm may have delayed getting in the straggling enrollees.

Up to Wednesday afternoon Mr. Cooke had sent to the state office of the census the names of 8,000 persons. There were also in the office 1,000 other names not forwarded, and a further list of 3,000 reached him later in the evening from Oneonta, making a total of 12,000 names out of an estimated total of 30,000.

In the city of Oneonta at 5 p. m. yesterday there had been 1,897 enrollments of females reported and 1,498 of males, making a total of 3,395 altogether. Further enrollments at the office last week raised the number to 3,500 out of an estimated 8,000. From these figures it would appear that the city registration is running fairly along with that in the county.

As a matter of interest it may be noted that it takes at least ten minutes to fill out one of the enrollment blanks. Supervisor Cooke estimates that to do the work alone it would take one person at least two years. A notable feature of the last days of registration is the large number of persons who come to the general Oneonta office in the Municipal building for the purpose of having their papers made out. In general, and where it is possible they are referred to the local enumerators, but in cases of railroad men and others whose occupations render it impossible to see the enumerators during the day, their blanks are filled out. The increasing number of these applicants indicates that those liable to enrollment are fully alive to their duties under the law.

In the list of district captains printed yesterday morning the name of M. C. Hemstreet of the Third ward was omitted. The headquarters are in the Red Cross rooms over the Citizens' National bank.

It is requested by Mr. Marshall that as far as possible all blanks which have been filled out and are in the hands of the enumerators be delivered at the city headquarters today. It is the desire of Mr. Marshall to complete the work as far as may be at the earliest practicable moment.

It is also suggested that families which have members who are liable to enrollment but are temporarily out of the city, apply to the census office for blanks, which can be sent to those absent with request that the blanks be filled out and forwarded according to directions.

So far as is known, only two persons in the city have refused to enroll. One woman said she was "too busy," and another would not answer for her child who manifestly could not do so for herself. It is believed that in each instance the person did not understand the requirements of the law; and that when it is fully explained there will be no trouble. In Richfield, it is stated, one woman refused to answer and by objection of the supervisor of the census a warrant was secured and she was arrested. As soon as this was done, however, the woman expressed her regret, gave the information and was released.

"Ma" and Billy Sunday Bid New York Adieu

BILLY &amp; MA SUNDAY LEAVE.

"Billy" Sunday and "Ma," the famous evangelist's wife, are here shown bidding goodbye to New York after their record-breaking revival in which more than 90,000 converts "hit the trail." The photograph was taken in the Pennsylvania station just before the couple stepped on board the train which will carry them to their summer home at Winona, Lake, Wis. Here Mr. Sunday will recuperate from the enervating physical effects of his arduous weeks of preaching to "hell ridden New York," as he frequently referred to the eastern metropolis in his tabernacle sermons.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Delaware County to Have a Home Economics Demonstration.

Because it is as important to preserve and save food as it is to raise it, the government plans to give each county which desires one a trained woman to demonstrate the best way of canning, drying and general preservation of food and also to demonstrate good methods of other cooking, sewing and general home keeping.

A representative of the State College of Agriculture met a group of women from different parts of the county at Delhi and outlined the plan by which a county can secure a woman county agent. The plan was enthusiastically received by the women present. The large meeting of the Farm bureau committeemen on June 14 also heartily endorsed the plan, so an organization is being perfected and an effort made to hire a competent woman to begin work July 1.

The state and federal government pays the entire salary of the demonstrator, but it is necessary that her expenses be paid in some way in the county. The executive committee of the Farm bureau has voted to give the demonstrator office room, free use of telephone, stationery, stenographic help, etc., but about $250 to provide traveling expenses, hotel bills, material and equipment for the work, etc., will have to be raised in some way.

It is planned to appoint a committee of five women in every community. This committee is to be representative of both village and country, and also of various women's organizations, for the work is for everybody. It will be the duty of this committee to raise its share of the necessary expenses, which will be small, by securing donations from individuals and organizations or in any other way. This committee will arrange for demonstrations and have general charge of the work for its community. While the work is being organized, requests for demonstrations may be made by anyone by writing the Farm bureau and such requests will be granted in the order in which they are received. If you are interested in learning ways of canning, drying or packing and food preserving, so that it will keep, apply for a demonstration in your community, and get behind this movement to help make it a success.

Farm Bureau Committeemen Meet.

The advantages of organization were made evident on June 11 when 51 Farm Bureau committeemen, representing every town and nearly every community in the county of Delaware, met at the Farm Bureau office at Walton to confer on the agricultural situation with a state representative from the New York State Food Supply commission. Plans of what the commission has already done and what it expects to do were outlined and suggestions were made by the committeemen as to what the needs of Delaware county were.

The attendance was larger than similar gatherings in any other county this summer, showing that Delaware farmers are looking well after their own interests. A big storm in the morning prevented many others from attending.

Committeemen endorsed the work already accomplished by the commission and also endorsed the plan of engaging a woman county agent to begin work as soon as possible in giving food conservation demonstrations and other work pertaining to the home.

She is distributing Red Cross appeals among the southern inhabitants.

Katherine Stinson, a youthful and attractive Chicago girl of 21 years, came to Washington today to offer her services to the Red Cross. She is going to Buffalo to secure a new machine and will commence to distribute pamphlets for the campaign in the course of a few days.

BARN BURNS ON LUNN FARM.

Two Horses Consumed in Fire Caused by Lightning on Monday.

At about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon lightning struck the wagon house and horse barn on the Joseph S. Lunn farm, situated about one mile from the East End school house, on the cemetery road. In the barn was a fine pair of horses owned by the Onondaga Ice company, a quantity of hay and straw and some farm machinery and grain. All were consumed with the building, the fire making such rapid headway that even the horses could not be saved, though Mr. Faulkner, the farm manager, reached the stall of one of them but was driven away by the flames.

The horses were valued at $500 and were insured for $400 with the M. G. Keenan agency. The insurance of $500 on the building and $200 on contents in the Ceperley & Morgan agency will not cover the loss.

They were both old stagers in Onondaga Loan association work, had done their full trick in helping to show little fellows how to combine small amounts into large amounts and thus get homes and a competency for old age, through the safe six per cent compound interest system, which is protected by state laws, same as savings banks, and decided that the little fellow who does not start in its new series which opens next month, is making the mistake of his life.

Ford Makes Dash for Liberty.

B. Simon of 37 River street came near losing a valuable Ford car the other day. He was bringing a load of bags over the mountains from Franklin. One of the bags accidentally fell off as he was about to descend a steep hill. In his haste to rescue the missing member, he forgot to apply the brakes with the result that the Ford took French leave. It calmly made its way down the hill, and when Simon reached it he found everything all right except the left fender, which came in contact with a tree, bending the fender badly.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES HELD

Seniors of State Normal School Present "Best Ever" Program; Gifted Scholars Make Oration; Recitations and Reader Solos; Class Gift Statue of Nathan Hale; Alumni Buys $400 Liberty Bonds.

Class day exercises were held by the seniors of the State Normal school yesterday morning. And those who attended said they were "the best ever." The program was opened with an address by the class president, Miss Margaret Woodburn, who in her closing words, emphasized the class motto of efficiency, and urged her classmates to strive to do their duties cheerfully and willingly. Miss Rose M. Keane then recalled the history of the class. She told how she and her fellow students had entered the school, some with friends among the seniors, some without, but all with a feeling of fear caused by being in a new atmosphere. She related how they have come through the two years of the course, overcoming difficulties, and could go away with many pleasant memories.

Lapsing into the realm of beauty, Miss Beatrice Temple, the class poet, painted with delightful lines the closing days of the class of 1917, and told how deeply had the students become attached to their alma mater.

The class oration was delivered by Miss Reva Wood, and in taking as her topic, "Opportunity," the speaker called upon her classmates to choose one aim, and become proficient in it by giving their constant attention to it.

Miss Beatrice H. Pierce, class historian, in fighting fancy prophesied the class as it "will be" in 1927, and her descriptions of where this one and that one would be and what she would be doing, aroused much amusement. Miss Pierce believes that many of the girls will be in positions that men now control.

"Grinds," by Miss Mary R. Beckman, was a humorous outline of the traits of the members of the class.

The gift of the class to the school, was a bronze statue of Nathan Hale, standing on a pedestal of Lybian marble. It was chosen because, as Miss Clara Hunter, in her address of presentation said, it symbolizes "the highest service of country," and "because this is a time when a symbol of service for the country is peculiarly appropriate." Prof. E. W. Anibal of the faculty accepted the gift on behalf of the school.

During the program a piano solo was rendered by Miss Margaret A. Caldwell and a vocal solo by Miss Helen E. Ferris. The exercises closed with the singing of the class song.

The Alumni association of the school held their annual business meeting at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, Frank Gurney; vice-president, Mrs. L. J. Bookbott; and secretary-treasurer, Prof. A. M. Curtis.

During the meeting it was announced that the association had subscribed to $400 worth of Liberty loan bonds.

A reception was held in the society rooms of the school building last evening, when the presidents of the various senior organizations received the friends and relatives of the graduating students.

RED CROSS ENTHUSIASM

Inspires the Solicitors and Everybody Else in Onondaga — Over $2,500 Raised.

There isn't the least question about the enthusiasm which is felt in Onondaga regarding the big Red Cross campaign which is now under way. Many solicitors and the executive committee have been busy ever since Monday morning, and the sum which they have raised is evidence of the genuine interest which is felt and of the determination of the people generally to help the Hundred Million Dollar project along. It is a notable fact that everybody approached has received the canvassers' courtesies, and that there is a most satisfactory feeling on the part of citizens regarding the work.

Up to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon nearly $2,500 had been subscribed. The canvass is by no means complete, but it is hoped that it will be finished before the end of the week. Irving H. Towse, who is chairman of the committee with the work in charge, is much pleased with the result already accomplished and with the outlook for the balance of Red Cross week.

Morgenthau to Head Mission to Palestine

HENRY MORGENTHAU.

Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey, will lead a mission to Egypt, sent by the United States to investigate conditions in Palestine. This move is the first step, it is believed, in American recognition of Palestine as a separate republic, with Jerusalem as the capital, as soon as the British take the Holy City.

INTRA-STATE FREIGHT RATES.

Hearing for Uniform 15 Per Cent Advance Set for Monday Next.

The carriers within the second Public Service district have filed with the Public Service commission at Albany their tariffs providing a 15 per cent increase in intra-state freight rates parallel with the increases in interstate rates for which they have already asked the Interstate Commerce commission at Washington. The Public Service commission has set a hearing on these applications for next Monday, June 25, at 10 a. m. in its Albany office, and invites all shippers, carriers and others interested to appear and present evidence.

The Interstate Commerce commission has finished its hearings on the interstate rates and will probably announce its decision within a short time. While the various state commissions are of course not bound to accept the conclusion of the federal body as necessarily to be followed in intra-state rates, it seems to have been generally believed that such a result would obtain except in particular cases where local conditions require a different determination, and this because the whole structure of interstate and intra-state rates is closely interwoven.

Thrown from Wagon Being Driven on Main Street, Oneonta.

West Davenport, June 20.—While driving on Main street, Oneonta, yesterday, the wheels of T. R. Oles wagon dropped in between the trolley rails and pavement, and in trying to get the wagon out it lurched and Mary, his young daughter who was riding with him was thrown to the pavement, the wheel passing over her left arm and body. When Mr. Oles picked up the child she was unconscious. She was removed to a nearby house and Dr. Brinkman was summoned. It was feared at first that she was injured internally, but upon the advice of Dr. Brinkman she was removed to her home here last evening and at this writing is quite comfortable.

BOY MATHEMATICAL
MARVEL

SAMUEL JUNGREIS.

Little six-year-old Samuel Jungreis carried around in his bugging forehead an automatic adding machine that grinds out mathematical problems that even he doesn't pretend to understand.

Sammy is the thirteenth child of Tobias Jungreis, of No. 217 East Seventh street, New York, and it was not until a week ago that his genius for figures revealed itself. Since then, however, he has done little but juggle digits—so cleverly that the story of his magical powers has begun to spread all over the city.

Sammy is a wizard at footing up staggering columns of figures. In an instant the answer pops out of him with almost parrot-like glibness, and it is invariably correct.

Blind Points in Our Memory. — "Don't remember" is a frequent answer from the witness box when the sudden question is put. And it is often a question such as any man might be expected to answer offhand. It would be a very intelligent jury that would understand the man who could not remember where he lunched every day. But there is probably not a jurymen on the lists who could not tell a story of his own sudden lapse of memory when the name, the date of the event, or the place, just as the eye turns the head and catch the dot on the paper, misses it and then regains it.—London Chronicle.

Home and the Wife.

The wife who conscientiously executes her duties in the home is as great a wealth producer as her husband, according to Professor R. R. Andrews of Columbia university. A woman who takes care of the home gives her husband many comforts that would cost him twice as much to get anywhere else. The time will soon come, he predicted, when the housewife's value will be realized more fully, and many wives now earning wages outside the home will prefer to spend their time in the home instead.

GOLDEN SEAL CONVENTION

SESSIONS AT ROXBURY ATTENDED BY LARGE NUMBER OF DELEGATES.

Convention Opened Tuesday Morning With Address of Welcome—Supreme Officers Re-elected—Last Session To Be Held Today.

Roxbury, June 20.—The eighth regular biennial session of the supreme camp of the Order of the Golden Seal is being held at Roxbury, June 19 to June 21 inclusive. Many visitors and delegates are in attendance coming from Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and the cities and towns in New York. The delegates began arriving on Monday, the eighteenth, although the regular session was not opened until Tuesday, at 10 a. m. Monday night an informal reception was given the supreme officers and other visiting members in the Masonic hall. Judging from the happy voices and evidences of good will, many acquaintances were renewed, as well as many new ones made. Refreshments were served and an informal entertainment consisting of readings and the singing of patriotic songs followed. Altogether a delightful evening.

The regular session opened Tuesday at 10 a. m. with considerably over a hundred delegates in attendance. Tuesday forenoon was taken up with the addresses of welcome and responses and the reports of the supreme officers. The first address of welcome was given in behalf of Roxbury by Robert B. Craft esq. of Roxbury, member of the supreme council. This was followed by an address of welcome on behalf of Delaware county by Hon. LaFayette B. Gleason, general counsel for the order, for many years secretary of the New York State Republican committee, and a life-time resident of Delhi. From the remarks by these two gentlemen it was very evident that the supreme camp of the order was right welcome not only to Roxbury but to Delaware county as well. The responses to these addresses were given by Edward J. Vantine, vice commander of Buffalo camp, No. 97, of Buffalo, on behalf of the visiting members, and by Hon. Hill Montague, supreme commander of the order of Colonial camp, No. 555, Richmond, Va., on behalf of the supreme officers, and showed that the royal welcome extended the supreme camp and supreme officers was much appreciated.

The report of the supreme officers followed. The report of the Hon. Hill Montague of Richmond, Va., supreme commander, gave a general survey of the work of the order for the past two years which was very gratifying. The reports of the supreme secretary, Arthur F. Bouton, and the supreme treasurer, J. P. Bouton, showed the excellent financial condition of the order with a gain in membership of over 55 per cent during the past two years, and also an excellent gain in assets. It was also interesting to note that for every dollar of liabilities the order has $1.19 assets according to the valuation given by Actuary Lee J. Wolfe of New York city. The last report of the morning was given by the supreme medical examiner, Dr. William H. Parker of Richmond, Va., a summary of which would be that the Order of the Golden Seal pays a very large percentage of its claims both sick and accident and death benefit, very few in comparison to the number paid having to be rejected. The supreme camp adjourned at noon, the various committees going into session for the afternoon while other members had an opportunity to enjoy themselves in visiting and going about to the various points of interest in town.

On Tuesday evening, Roxbury camp, No. 1, held its regular meeting with the supreme camp as visitors. There was a class of fourteen initiated, the work being put on by the home team, which received many compliments from visiting members. Under "good of the order" an excellent musical and literary program was given which was much enjoyed, one of the features being the famous Masonic male quartet of which George J. Clute of Oneonta was second bass. This evening, like the preceding one, was a very pleasant one.

The Wednesday morning session was opened at 10 o'clock. The announcement by the supreme commander that Charles M. Riscay, business manager of the insurance press, would address the supreme camp was greeted with much pleasure. Mr. Riscay is not only an able speaker, but gives some good practical ideas for workers in the field as he is a most successful salesman himself. This address was followed by Lee J. Wolfe, consulting actuary for the order, with offices at 165 Broadway, New York city, one of the most prominent actuaries in the United States. Mr. Wolfe has long been connected with the order both as their actuary and as a member and his appearance is always hailed with pleasure. His remarks were extremely interesting and very timely, as they were along the line of the present war and its possible influence on life insurance. He also congratulated the supreme officers on their management of the order's affairs and its excellent financial standing as shown by actuarial computation. After the conclusion of these addresses the following supreme officers were unanimously re-elected each to succeed himself: Robert B. Craft esq. of Roxbury, M. R. Ferguson of Richmond, Va., S. S. Crocker of Pittsburgh, Pa., Edwin L. Kingsley of Parkersburg, West Virginia, William D. Hill of South Boston, Virginia, and Dr. William H. Parker of Richmond, Va. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 for the consideration of amendments to the constitution and laws. This business session will probably hold over for the most of the day Thursday.

YES! MAGICALLY!
CORN LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of Freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet. A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers. This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while Freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without irritating or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.
